1. Mr. [REDACTED] called me today to say that General [REDACTED] had inquired from him relative to the possibility of storing in the Records Center at [REDACTED] some highly sensitive and special Commo materials for a period of approximately two months. These materials are concerned with the operations of [REDACTED] and the activities now carried on in [REDACTED]

2. The material must be stored in a fireproof building and in a secured area. It is highly inflammable and is contained in foot lockers. Mr. [REDACTED] told me that he had advised General [REDACTED] that we would cooperate to the best of our ability to accommodate him. He suggested, however, that General [REDACTED] investigate the possibility of storing this material in the [REDACTED] which is now occupied [REDACTED]. In the event that satisfactory storage facilities are not found in the Headquarters area, General [REDACTED] will ask Mr. [REDACTED] to contact me relative to making the necessary arrangements for the storage of these materials. Mr. [REDACTED] emphasized that it was highly important that we accommodate General [REDACTED] in making suitable space available in the Records Center if it is humanly possible. I advised him that we would.
